Together with Sahome.org
The Forthright Foundation fosters

Benevolent thinking For a Fortunate Future

This is our job:

The whole world is in need of the saving graces and wants to advance and find deliverance, to be rescued and preserved from harm, to be set at liberty from vice and corruption and to receive leniency through one another's patience.

This requires that we accept that we are all related, needing one another's goodwill and honorable efforts to set us free, to provide us safety and to prosper us with the optimal opportunity to enjoy the ampleness of our lives. This requires a shared overall commitment to optimize and benefit each living soul. Our point of reference is this: The good in all of us belongs to all of us. This goal is related to and communicated by fostering benevolent thinking. We will bring joy as we promote and devote ourselves to good character. This is the path to greater self integration, self discovery, and self development which helps us to integrate and show compassion to the wider human family. With this increase in personal efficiency, hope, self mastery, inner strength and harmony we can help turn our world's sorrows and setbacks to our betterment and come to peace.

Our job is to:

"End harm, mend hearts, and lend a helping hand."
May we be positive role models and mutual helpful mentors.
May we refine, reform and renew our efforts to sustain order and peace.
May we help the world to go from obscene to serene to pristine as majesty makers, and may we cause durable equitable treaties, laws and policies to flourish and prevail, so that we savor and relish our life on earth as a blessed gift.

This is our moral mission to expand the purpose of peace and goodwill worldwide.

"May we look for the helpers."

– Fred Rogers

Love turns into prosperity for all posterity.
Love is self actualizing on a higher level of self organization, validation and mental health. Love is our fundamental truth as a human family.
Love is a dear grace that only enlarges by the giving.
Love gives us the wonder of awareness and full presence of heart and the mind to be redeemed, and continually renewed.
Love is at the root of hospitality, peace and goodwill.

All that one is and all that one does is enlarged by hospitality, because it reflects a nobleness and generosity of heart. Let us say: beauty, bravery and benevolence have many faces, and exists in all creeds and races.

The first point of hospitality is making peace with our own soul.

- We all need input and positive validation. Nurture is the need of our life.
- What we supplicate to becomes our sufficiency.
- Honor and mercy have one genesis and that is humility and humility is ultimately about having concern for the gracious wellbeing of our fellow beings. Love is about the fulfillment of everyone's potential for self betterment.
- Where we find common ground is on the level of mutual love, mutual honor and mutual mercy. This creates life expansion!
- Kindness, tenderness, bounty and benevolent thinking, show us at our best!

We don't have to wait for the world to be perfect in order to have a glorious life! This is "value centered living".

The Forthright Foundation with Sahome wishes each of us health, happiness, prosperity, and joy always in all our noble endeavors.